Dog Merger Failed; G. & F. Commission Stocks De Gray Lake

My accommodation of the stray German Shepherd dog on which I gave a "Found" notice in this column Aug. 18, with no takers, simply didn't work out.

There being no claimers for the stray dog I had Dr. Herbert Rogers examine the shepherd to the tune of $22.50, fitted the animal with one of my identification collars, and turned him loose in my fenced backyard with my pet Boxer "Roger." They had three fights—at least one of which I saw Roger start. Despite the fact that the stranger was half again as big as he was my dog never quit trying to beat him.

Finally I hauled Roger off to the vet hospital to repair his wounds, and gave the German Shepherd to my old friend W. M. Ramsey, Box 44-A, Route One, Washington, Ark. Bill has owned several German Shepherds in the past, and will give the dog a good home. Besides, he lives alone and has no other dog, and needs one. This was Tuesday, Aug. 24.

Bill Ramsey will be remembered as the Illinois man who for years ran the old Checkered Cafe at Third and Main Sts., now the site of the Linnbert Cafeteria. Bill finally moved to Ruidosa, N.M., made some money in a restaurant and motel—and retired, first in the Fayetteville, Ark., area, then moving back to Hope and building a house on the Columbus road just east of Crossroads.

The Summer issue of the Arkansas Game & Fish Commission magazine reports:

"Biologists will attempt to upset the success-decline cycle previously encountered by federal lakes by utilizing different stocking methods during the initial stocking of the De Gray Reservoir."

"A wider variety of fish were stocked, but perhaps the one significant alteration was the reduced number of sunfish stocked," the magazine continued.

"Totals in the stocking consisted of various sizes and age classes of fish.

"The totals by species were:
"4,000,000 walleye
"3,450,000 northern pike
"148,173 large-mouth bass
"150,000 shad
"77,030 crappie
"131,629 channel catfish
"6,140 blue catfish
"30,000 muskellunge
"406 white bass
"10,220 blue-gill bream
"50,000 redear bream."

West Memphis Bond Issue Approved

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — Voters have approved two large Act 9 bond issues Tuesday in a sparse voter turnout.

An issue of $1 million was approved 241-86 and an issue of the $1.3 million was approved 233-87. There are 8,929 registered voters in West Memphis.

The larger issue is to finance construction of a lay-up mill here for Evans Products Co., a hardwood paneling manufacturer. The other issue will finance an expansion of the Langston Bag Co. plant which employs 50 persons.

In lieu of taxes, Evans will pay $7,800 annually to the city for the 20-year term of the bonds and Langston will pay a sliding scale that begins at $3,434 and ends at $2,835.

Circuit Court Judge Russell C. Roberts of Conway imposed the sentence here after denying defense motions for a new trial and bond.

Shelton's attorney, James K. Young, filed a notice of appeal of the conviction.

Rogers Calls German Envoy for Report

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers called in the U.S. ambassador to West Germany today for a first-hand account of the historic East-West agreement on Berlin.

U.S. officials rated the proposed Big Four pact on civilian access to West Berlin a significant step forward in easing tensions around what has been a longstanding flashpoint in the cold war.

The U.S. envoy, Kenneth Rush, flew into Washington Tuesday night.

The agreement reached Monday by Rush and ambassadors from Britain, France and the Soviet Union followed 17 months of Berlin negotiations. It is expected to be approved by the home governments in about two weeks with little or no change in wording, then formally signed by the four.

It will be up to West and East Germans to work out nuts-and-bolts details of carrying out the access agreement. After that, the big powers will pass on the new setup before it takes effect.

Under the draft agreement, the Soviets acknowledge for the first time that they share with the three Western powers ultimate responsibility for access to Berlin.

Routine Meet of Board of Directors

The City Board of Directors at the regular meeting last night approved the use of the community building in the City Park by Mrs. Evelyn Stuart for a kindergarten. Mrs. Stuart has operated a kindergarten for several years in this building.

Board members, Bob Jackson and Mel Thrash, were appointed by Mayor Strong to meet with two members of the Third District Livestock Association to work out some agreement about cleanup of the buildings and grounds after use of the buildings. In the past, much of this work has been done by the Parks and Recreation Department. The Board feels that because the Third District has complete control of use of the buildings and because they do not receive any income from use that the Parks and Recreation Department should not be responsible for cleanup.

The Board approved the blacktopping of two blocks of West Fourth Street from Hamilton Street to Mockingbird Lane. The property owners have agreed to pay their part of the cost of the street.

The Board approved the appointment of Robert LaGrone to another ten year term on the $1.3 million was approved 233-87. There are 8,929 registered voters in West Memphis.

The larger issue is to finance construction of a lay-up mill here for Evans Products Co., a hardwood paneling manufacturer. The other issue will finance an expansion of the Langston Bag Co. plant which employs 50 persons.

Labor Leaders Press Plans to Fight Freeze Order in the Courts

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor leaders are pressing plans to fight President Nixon's wage-price freeze in the courts, Congress and on the picket line if necessary, despite the government's move to ease mortgage interest rates.

"We don't think the action on interest rates does a thing," an AFL-CIO spokesman said of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board's action freeing $1.8 billion more in private and federal funds for housing mortgages. "It doesn't meet the test of equity," the spokesman said.

Discusses Millwood

JIM S. CYRUS

Jim S. Cyrus, Resident Engineer, Millwood Reservoir, Tulsa District, Corps. of Engineers, was the guest speaker at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting.

Mr. Cyrus quoted figures, showing what the tourist industry means to the economy of a given area, and to our area in particular.

In its planning stages, it was estimated that in 1972 a total of 320,000 people would visit Millwood. Much to the surprise of the planners in 1970 a total of 2,240,000 people visited Millwood, and so far this year 2 1/2 million people have already visited the area.

After his opening remarks Mr. Cyrus showed color slides of the projects completed and planned in the Little River Basin comprised of seven dams and reservoirs of which three are now complete, Millwood, Broken Bow, and Pine Creek. As the dams and reservoirs are completed they are transferred from the construction area of the Corps. of Engineers to the Operating section, and under the supervision of Mr. Cyrus as the Resident Engineer.

Rev. Gaylon L. Decious, new minister of the First Christian Church was the only guest at Tuesday's meeting. He was formerly a Kiwanian of Colfax, Iowa.

Orders Auto Insurance Rate Hike Probe After One Grants Refunds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas customers of State Farm Mutual will receive a "dividend" ranging from $2 to $20 on their next insurance premium bills, company officials said today.

The dividend, which will be paid as credit on the next premium due, amounts to 6.1 per cent of the premium for each of the more than 115,000 Arkansas motorists who are State Farm customers. Cash payment will be made to motorists who do not renew their policies.

Bill Sanders of Monroe, La., regional vice president of State Farm, told a news conference that more than $400,000 in dividends would be paid in Arkansas, with the amount ranging according to the size of a motorist's premium.

The company is returning $30 million to its customers in 31 states and the District of Columbia because of State Farm's favorable business experience in the first six months of the year, Sanders said.

He said the refunds ranged from 1 to 17 per cent, according to the state.

Word of the refund in Arkansas reached the state Tuesday and Gov. Dale Bumpers told newsmen then that he wanted an explanation of why some car

No Solution to Hospital Problems

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Tuesday he hopes to have a decision within 10 days on a solution to the financial problems of the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

He didn't hint at what course of action he might endorse, but said he hoped to avoid a special legislative session. Bumpers also said he had proposed using money from his emergency fund to finance a study of food prices in Arkansas.

It was a "very disturbing statistic" in a survey that showed food prices in Little Rock exceeded all survey cities nationwide except Honolulu, Bumpers said.

The governor said he wasn't sure the state had legal means of reducing food prices, but he said prices were "inordinately high" in view of food production in Arkansas.

Bumpers declined to be pinned down on his future political plans. He said he had given no thought to running for the position held by Sen. John I. McClellan, D-Ark.

Going Along With Freeze

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock Classroom Teachers Association approved Tuesday a professional negotiations agreement for 1971-72, based on the 1970-71 salary schedules but providing for further negotiations when President Nixon's wage-price freeze ends.

The South Vietnamese Command reported 26 enemy attacks in the past 24 hours, including eight rocket and mortar bombardments. A communique said nine civilians were killed and 21 wounded in two shellings, an ambush and a bombing.

Informed sources said less than a dozen Americans were wounded and none were killed. The U.S. Command warned that more intense enemy activity was expected as the Saigon government prepared for legislative elections Sunday.

Two Testify They Saw Man Shoot Wife

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Two persons testified Tuesday in Circuit Court here that they saw Arthur Feagin, 33, of near Springdale fatally shoot his wife last Dec. 26.

The testimony came in the first-degree murder trial of Feagin, who has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

His 31-year-old wife, Ota Lucinda, was shot three times with a high-powered rifle at the couple's home two days after he received notice that she had begun divorce proceedings.

Mrs. Loretta Feagin, the defendant's sister-in-law, and Mrs. Rene Sinor, cousin of the victim, said they were in the kitchen of the Feagin home when Feagin walked in and shot Mrs. Feagin.

Mrs. Edit Mullins, a tavern operator, said Feagin had been to her business prior to the shooting. She said she overheard him say, "I'll kill her before I get a divorce."

The state called a total of 16 witnesses before resting its case.

Rains Good for Both Hay, Weeds

Rains in Southwest Arkansas last week were very beneficial to crops and pastures but unfortunately also helped grasses, weeds, and insects.

In a series of special crop reports by Agricultural Extension Agents in the area, the following observations, were made:

Four new cases of screwworms were reported in Little River County. Peanuts were in good condition but leaf blight and the red neck peanut worm were reported in all fields. Older sorghum was about ready to harvest and soybeans were fruiting heavily.

All truck gardens in Polk County were reported in excellent condition with plenty of fruits and vegetables. Livestock were in good condition but horseflies were bad and ticks numerous.

A good crop of soybeans was setting in Pike County but late fields were weedy from lack of cultivation. The rains increased hay yields and it now appears supplies will be adequate.

Some soybeans in Miller County were drowned out and most were grassy. Most sorghum was past the danger of insects. Some alfalfa was hurt by water.

Late maturing soybeans were flowering well in Hempstead County and early varieties were setting pods. All hay crops were making good yields.

Twenty five to 30 per cent of the cotton fields in Ouachita County were infested with worms and weevils. Insecticides were being applied. Sorghum was in good condition and insects were not of economic importance. The commercial pea crop was declared a 75 per cent loss.

Thieu Going on With Election

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu told provincial officials and campaign aides today that he is going to run for re-election on Oct. 3 even if he is the only candidate.

Vietnam Press, the government news agency, announced that Acting Premier Nguyen Luu Vien had notified officials throughout the country that the voting would be held as scheduled.

Thieu discussed his campaign for four hours with nearly 100 provincial officials and campaign workers after a hastily arranged meeting with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

The one-hour meeting with Bunker set off speculation that the ambassador might have advanced a new proposal to ease the crisis resulting from the prospect of Thieu running unopposed. But Vietnamese who attended the campaign conference said the president flatly declared his intention to run and outlined plans for the campaign he will conduct.

Thieu told his supporters he is primarily concerned with getting out the vote in the countryside to demonstrate solid support for him. But Vietnamese sources said proposals were also made for banners and posters promoting the candidacy of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, apparently as a device to make the election appear contested even though Thieu is the only active candidate.

Ky's name appears on the ballot even though he announced Monday he would not campaign because the election was rigged in Thieu's favor. He had been disqualified from the race on grounds that his nominating petitions lacked enough valid endorsements, but U.S. pressure forced Thieu to reinstate him.

Refuses to Let Strikers Return

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Great Lakes Chemical Co. refused Tuesday to permit members of Local 434 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union to return to jobs they left on strike 14 months ago.

Members of the union had voted to end the long walkout in line with President Nixon's request for all strikes to be ended; local President Tommy Miller announced Monday.

In a meeting with management officials Tuesday morning, representatives of the 63 workers who had been on strike were told there was no place for them.

A union member told plant officials the effort was being made to comply with the President's request, but a company spokesman replied, "Nixon is not running Great Lakes."

Mills Rally May Cost $30,000

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The rally for Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., scheduled for Thursday night, will cost $20,000 to $30,000 at least, coordinator Charles Ward of Conway said Tuesday.

Ward said ticket sales, at $5 each, had been good, but he predicted there would be no surplus of proceeds, since no one will be turned away for lack of a ticket.

"Our primary purpose is to see a large crowd out and not to see tickets and raise money," Ward said.

The rally is aimed at displaying appreciation for Mills. The congressman has been mentioned as a possible candidate for Democratic presidential nomination next year, but he says he wants Thursday's rally to be nonpolitical.

Ward said that if a surplus of money develops, Mills will decide who gets it. Ward suggested an orphanage or charity.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — From morning to night, five days a week, 20 or more teenagers wait quietly around the entrance to the studio lot where a television series, "Getting Together," is being filmed.

They are Bobby Sherman fans. All they want is a chance to glimpse their favorite coming to or going from work—and occasionally a greeting or an autograph. The 25-year-old singer-actor is almost as fond of them as they are of him.

Bobby, a hard-working young man, is attempting to transfer from teen-age singing idol status—a string of hit records and adoration by the 8-to-15 year old crowd—to the firmer ground of entertainer. As far as he is concerned, that is what "Getting Together" is all about.

ABC describes the series as "situation comedy with music," and it is the only new series in prime time with special romantic appeal to the high school and under crowd. Since youthful enthusiasms are likely to turn off the mature audience, the series has been designed to contain elements of warm family feeling that bridges the chasm between generations.

Bobby and his costar, Wes Stern, play a struggling team of songwriters. There is a 12-year-old girl orphan; a mother-in-law in their landlady; and a lovable cop on the beat.

Sherman first attracted attention during two years as a pop singer on "Shindig," so youth-oriented that many viewers over 30 never sat through a single program. Then he took over for another two as a non-singing costar in "Here Come the Brides," playing the youngest of three adventurous brothers.

Bobby stepped out of a rehearsal as two 12-year-old girls, stars in their eyes, were admitted to the sound stage.

"They," he said, "nodding toward the youngsters, "made the opportunity. They certainly deserve my affection and gratitude."

They receive it. He is patient about autographs, keeps up with his mail. After working a five-day week on his show, he usually flies off for a Saturday night concert.

Order Spurs Training of Servicemen

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

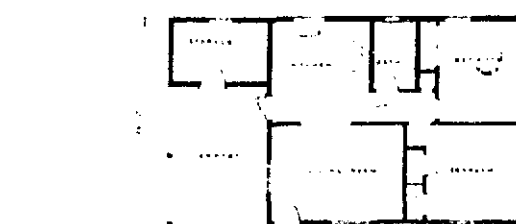

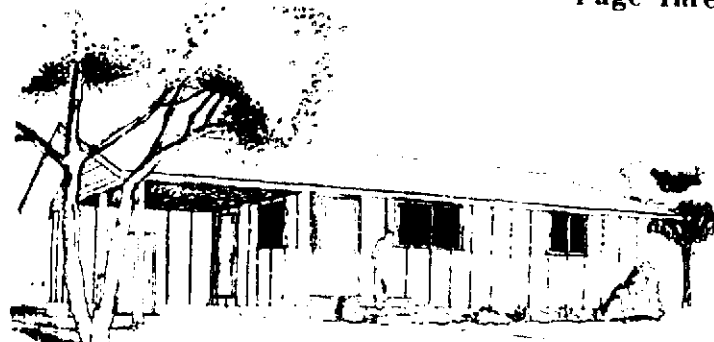

AP Military Writer WASHINGTON (AP)

Spurred by President Nixon, the Pentagon has ordered a 50-per-cent increase in a program to prepare undereducated and unskilled servicemen for civilian jobs after discharge.

Pentagon officials indicated about 75,000 men, many of them combat troops, will receive special skill training under the expanded Project Transition that may cost $100 million or more.

The Army recently was directed to send a task force "to establish Transition in Vietnam on a crash basis." And stepped up efforts will be made in other overseas areas and in the United States.

Job counseling, educational help, vocational training and job-finding aid will be provided to men who volunteer for the program in advance of their discharge from the service. Along with the rest, it will be open to men being treated for drug abuse.

Small Two Bedroom House With A Carport

This small two bedroom house was developed to provide adequate space yet minimize construction cost. The living area includes 836 square feet with an additional 210 square feet in the carport and 102 square feet of outside storage.

This is a wood framed house well insulated to provide comfort, and utilizes exterior plywood siding.

The bedrooms provide adequate space for furniture arrangement and includes generous clothes closets.

The bathroom is a compacted design to minimize space requirements.

The kitchen incorporates an L-shaped work area to provide space for informal dining.

By incorporating by-fold doors between the living room and kitchen-dining area these two rooms can be opened into one large informal area.

The washer and dryer and hot water tank can be located in the outside storage area.

If this small two bedroom house meets your needs, you can obtain a copy of the working drawings, free of charge, from the Hempstead County Agricultural Extension Office by requesting Plan No. 634009.

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

LOVE THY NEIGHBOR? NEVER!

Dear Helen:

Our neighbors . . .

1. Let their little kids call us dirty names.

2. Accuse my husband of being a peeping Tom. (How could he when he works two jobs, and besides, why would he have to, when this dame parades around in her undies in front of an open window?)

3. Break off our plants.

4. Steal fruit from our tree that hangs in their yard, and throw the pits back in our yard.

5. Knock over the makeshift fence we put up to protect ourselves from them.

6. Try to run down my daughter when she drives her bike in their driveway.

7. Throw their garbage into our yard.

8. Splash black grease on the side of our house.

9. Go on about how rich they are.

10. Start something the minute I go out to do my yard work.

What can I do about these miserable creatures?—DOWN UNDER

P.S. They're of the younger generation. I suppose that accounts for a lot of it.

Dear D.U.:

May we now hear it from your neighbors? It wouldn't be fair to comment until both sides are presented. And even then the versions might be highly exaggerated.

Is it any wonder the world is never without war—when two families so often can't live side by side without fighting?—H.

Dear Helen:

I took my husband for better or for worse, but the worse is getting the better of me.

He thinks nothing of stealing—and is only repentant if he gets caught. He barely escaped prison by making restitution for embezzling from his company.

This isn't the first time. I try to make things right by returning what he lifts, but I'm so embarrassed because people know what he's like, and that he never tells the truth.

I have also caught him in four affairs. Each time he's "so sorry." He'll "never do it again."

If it weren't for the children, I'd leave him, as we fight constantly. Don't suggest counseling. He goes to church every Sunday so figures he's perfect.—NERVOUS WRECK

Your husband's "worse" may get the better of the children, too, if it is as bad as you picture: This kind of education could head them toward juvenile hall. I'd suggest you stop covering up for him, and start aiming toward an honest life on your own.—H.

Dear Helen:

This is an open letter to business men and women who use the telephone a lot.

My boss is a busy man. I try to save him time. When he's out, I ask callers to leave their names and messages. Please, I'm not prying—I'd just like to have the proper information on his desk.

So next time I ask "What is this in reference to?" don't say, "He'll know," or act as if it's none of my business.—SECRETARY

NOTE FROM H: And if you insist on giving ONLY your name and phone number, don't expect a return call—unless you're well known by the boss!—H.

Aaron Hangs Up Another Record

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Just about every time Hank Aaron plays, it seems that he breaks a record.

It seems that way because he does.

Aaron, who passed Ty Cobb on the all-time list of total bases Monday, barged by Tris Speaker Tuesday night in career runs scored as he helped the Atlanta Braves beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 15-5.

"Records just mean that I've been playing a long time," said Aaron, whose 37th homer of the year produced his 1,882nd lifetime run and placed him in sixth place.

And he has his sharp hitting eye on more production.

"I said before the season I'd like to hit 40 homers," said Aaron, "but I probably should pass that now."

Does he think he can hit the 50-homer level, something he's never accomplished in his fabled career?

"No, I have no ideas of 50," said Aaron, modestly.

Elsewhere in the National League Monday night, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Houston Astros 2-1; the Cincinnati Reds stopped the Chicago Cubs 5-4; the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped the Montreal Expos 6-4; the San Diego Padres downed the Philadelphia Phillies 2-0 and the San Francisco Giants trimmed the New York Mets 3-2.

American League scores: Milwaukee 6, Cleveland 5; Minnesota 3, Detroit 1; Baltimore 1, Chicago 0; Kansas City 5, Boston 4 in 13 innings; New York 1, Oakland 0 and California 2, Washington 1.

Among his varied accomplishments since he joined the major league with the old Milwaukee Braves in 1954, the 37-year-old Aaron has hit 629 home runs.

That puts him in third place behind San Francisco's Willie Mays, who has 644, and Babe Ruth, who had 714.

How does Hammerin' Hank feel every time they flash his record-breaking deeds on the scoreboard at Atlanta Stadium? "I don't mind—as long as they don't flash my age," quipped Aaron.

Actually, Aaron has been tired of late although you'd never know it by his long-ball pace of five homers in six days that's boosted his RBI to 96 and his batting average to .322.

Mike Lum and Marty Perez joined Aaron in their hitting party hat produced 21 safeties against the Pirates' shell-shocked pitching staff. Lum drilled a three-run homer in the second inning and Perez belted a three-run blow in the third before Aaron unloaded in the fourth.

The Cardinals took advantage of Pittsburgh's loss to move up to a tie with Chicago for second place in the National League East, five games behind the front-running Pirates.

Reliever Al Santorini came in with the potential tying run on third base in the ninth inning and threw a double-play pitch to Doug Rader to end the game. The clutch relief job saved the game for rookie Regis Cleveland.

Pete Rose ripped three doubles and scored three runs and Woody Woodward slammed three hits to lead Cincinnati over Chicago.

Nicklaus Already Eying Next Season

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus is nearing the end of his play for this season and already is looking forward to next year and, possibly, another assault on a sweep of golf's Big Four championships.

"I'm only going to play maybe one more regular tour event this year—and that's only maybe," Nicklaus said today before teeing off in the first round of the unique $200,000 United States Professional Match Play championship.

"I've got a pretty heavy European travel schedule this fall," he said.

"And 1972 could be a big year for me, with the Big Four championships being played where they are, and I sure want to be sharp for them."

The Masters, of course, is at Augusta, Ga., the U.S. Open at Pebble Beach, Calif., the British Open at Muirfield in Scotland and the PGA national championship at Oakland Hills, near Detroit.

"They're all courses I like and that I play reasonably well," said Nicklaus, who, admittedly, was seeking a never-accomplished sweep of those four titles this season.

He got off to a good start with a victory in the PGA, but finished second to Charles Coody in the Masters, lost the U.S. Open in a playoff to Lee Trevino and finished sixth behind Trevino in the British.

But it's been one of the best seasons ever for the Golden Bear.

He's the No. 1 seed in this five-day tournament, has won four times, has finished ninth or better 13 of his 15 starts and, with a leading $205,568 in money winnings, is closing in on his own single season record of $211,556.

Single rounds, with half the 64-man field being eliminated each time, are scheduled today, Thursday and Friday. The quarter-finals and semi-finals are set for Saturday with the two survivors meeting for the $35,000 first prize Sunday on the 6,973 yard, par 72 Country Club of North Carolina course.

Nicklaus went against former PGA champion Ray Floyd in his first round match. Arnold Palmer, No. 2, played Australian Bruce Devlin. Gary Player of South Africa, the No. 3 player making his first start in this country in two months, faced Homero Blancas.

The ace left-hander, out-dueling Tom Bradley, allowed only two White Sox runners to reach second base and limited them to singles by Bradley in the third, Carlos May in the fourth, Jay Johnstone in the sixth and Steve Hantz in the ninth.

Perry, last year's Cy Young Award winner, notched his 14th victory—but that only equalled his defeats this season. He permitted only two Tigers' base-runners after being tagged by Al Kaline's first-inning home run.

The Twins took the lead in the fourth on Rich Reese's single, Leo Cardenas' double and sacrifice flies by Jim Nettles and George Mitterwald. Cesar Tovar's two-bagger drove in the final run in the seventh.

Clyde Wright of the Angels won a brilliant duel against Pete Broberg, beating the Senators with a two-hitter. Broberg, Washington's flamethrowing rookie, appeared to have a 1-0 two-hit victory of his own before he issued a one-out ninth-inning walk to Jim Fregosi, then served up a home run pitch to Jim Spencer.

Wright struck out nine batters and gave up four walks, three of them to massive Frank Howard. "Sure, he can beat you with one swing," Wright said of the Senators' slugger. "But I wasn't afraid of a homer," he grinned. "I was afraid he might kill me with a hit back to the mound."

The Brewers scored three times in the sixth when Roy Foster dropped Ellie Rodriguez' bases-loaded two-out liner to right field, then added three more in the seventh. Foster and Ray Fosse homered for the Indians.

The Royals, who have taken all 10 games from the Red Sox this season, loaded the bases with nobody out in the bottom of the 13th and Gail Hopkins wrapped it up with a single to right.

Quarterbacks Praised Over Conference

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Quarterback praise flowed freely Tuesday on Southwest Conference training fields, as the second big day of fall workouts resumed with classes just around the corner.

The most lavish praise came from SMU mentor Hayden Fry, who said much-traveled Gary Hammond "looked very good" at quarterback for this early in the season. Hammond, a senior, was an All-Southwest Conference performer at the end of his sophomore year and at tailback last season.

"Gary was on target with his passing and I don't believe I saw a receiver drop the ball all day," Fry said.

Baylor coach Bill Beall praised the passing work of all three of his quarterbacks. He said backup men Randy Cavenier and Chuck Dossett "seem improved over last spring," and added that starter Si Southall "was throwing very well."

Texas A&M coach Gene Stallings was enthusiastic about the battle for the starting quarterback job that is going on in Aggieland between junior Lex James and sophomore Mark Green.

"The main difference is experience. Mark is doing a good job, but he hasn't been in front of 70,000 screaming fans. Lex is in good shape and is the more accurate because he has thrown a lot more," Stallings said.

Meanwhile, the University of Texas developed the Conference's first bad case of the injury bug, at least concerning key players.

Randy Stout, a fifth-year senior starting offensive guard, was not one of those injured, but he was missing from the squad Tuesday. He said he has quit the team.

But two other starters, safety Tommy Woodard and defensive end David Arledge are out with injuries — Woodard with a back injury of undetermined seriousness and Arledge with a bad knee.

At TCU, the injury situation was not so acute as Texas' Butch Silvey, a linebacker from Irving, sustained a slight shoulder separation Tuesday and Roy Popham, a defensive end from Dallas, fractured a bone in his foot.

But trainer Elmer Brown said both players should be ready for TCU's opening game Sept. 18 against the University of Texas at Arlington.

Texas Tech went through its second day of fall football practice in pads Tuesday, and were to have their first full-scale scrimmage today.

The scrimmage will feature the No. 1 offense against the No. 2 defense and the No. 2 offense against the No. 1 defense.

Pro Football Having Share of Troubles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York Giants Coach Alex Webster, who's had his share of troubles lately, got some more bad news Tuesday.

Ron Johnson, who rushed for 1,027 yards from his halfback position last season, will be sidelined for the remaining three weeks of training camp because of a thigh injury which will require surgery.

The injury, a deep bruise on his right thigh, was suffered two months ago when Johnson was playing a pickup basketball game in Ann Arbor, Mich. Some blood which collected within the tissue has not cleared up, so doctors will have to operate to drain it off.

Dr. Anthony Pisani, Giants' team physician, said Johnson might be ready to play in the team's final preseason game, or in the first game of the regular season against Green Bay one week later.

So Webster, whose team dropped its first three exhibition games and who has watched players—including quarterback Fran Tarkenton, the key man in the team's offense—come and go in training camp, now has to worry about his running game, too. Bobby Duhon will start in place of Johnson when the Giants meet Philadelphia at Princeton, N.J. Saturday, but Les Shy, Joe Morrison and top draft choice Rocky Thompson should also see action at halfback.

Webster cut four players from the squad Tuesday, including veteran Willie Townes, a defensive end. Townes was BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins today announced the signing of four veterans, including forwards Ken Hodge and Wayne Cashman for the 1971-72 National Hockey League season.

Center Mike Walton, obtained from the Toronto Maple Leafs last January, and goalie Eddie Johnston also were signed.

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Expos reached the one million attendance mark for the third consecutive year Tuesday night when a crowd of 28,159 was on hand for their game against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The crowd brought Montreal's home season attendance to 1,011,754 for 55 games. They are 38,214 fans behind their pace of last year when they drew 1,424,683. In 1969, the Expos drew 1,212,608.

BUFFALO (AP) — Coach Harvey Johnson of the Buffalo Bills announced Tuesday that Doc Urich, who joined the team's coaching staff 13 days ago, would serve as defensive coach.

Urich, formerly head coach at Northern Illinois University, replaces Tom Day, who was named the team's pro talent scout, a new position.

Hog Offense Sparkles in Scrimmage

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)

—Arkansas' No. 1 offense and defense sparked against reserves Tuesday, but Coach Frank Broyles expressed displeasure over players' physical condition.

"The first scrimmage is not supposed to look like midseason, but I thought it would look better than it did," Broyles said.

The No. 1 offense, led by quarterback Joe Ferguson's four touchdown passes, scored 15 TDs in a scrimmage session against the reserve defense.

The first-string defense, working at the other end of the field, throttled the reserve offense for more than the scheduled 40 plays, intercepted four passes and jolting six fumbles out of the reserves.

Ferguson's scoring throws included three of 40 yards each and one of 13 yards.

Tailback Jon Richardson scored on runs of 36, 13 and two yards and amassed 96 yards on nine carries. Another tailback, Dicky Morton, had 170 yards on 17 carries and scored from nine, 12 and 38 yards away.

SAN FRANCISCO 49ers

PROSPECTUS—Fulfillment has come to 49ers—well, almost. Feeling of winning has coursing through their fingers, ending 25-year vigil. Credit lot of it to taciturn Dick Nolan (also known as Mute Rockne) who got young club sold on his structured teaching of football. They have all the elements to repeat division crown and maybe go couple of steps further. They're also riding precariously on one man at QB.

Offense

PASSING—If John Brodie, 35, isn't best quarterback taking a snap, San Francisco doesn't have cable cars. The 35-year-old vet has a young hair style to go with his still vigorous old arm. He's at best under pressure picking out secondary receivers. Steve Spurrier keeps waiting in wings. Rating—A—.

RUNNING — Quest for breakthrough threat now focuses on Joe Orndun. Nolan already knows what Ken Willard (Mr. Steady), Doug Cunningham can do — which includes blocking for Brodie—but they've got to jack up outside running to get more balanced attack. Vic Washington, escapee from Canada, can also flee around end. Rating—B—.

LINEBACKING

Grizzlies of Ft. Smith Are Picked

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The list of running backs at Fort Smith Northside in recent years has been blue-ribbon — Billy Joe Releford, Robert Owens, David Carter, Bennie Shepherd. Now comes Roger Carter, who may be the best of them all.

"Overall, he's the most gifted athlete we've ever had," says coach Charles Presley. "He can do more things with the football than anyone we've ever had."

Last year, Carter carried 247 times for more than 1,100 yards and 28 touchdowns. Bear in mind those figures were compiled in Class AAAA, the strongest league in the state, against teams who designed their defenses to contain Carter.

"He can run with the ball, he can catch it and he can kick it," Presley says. "He has good speed (4.7 in the 40) and good strength (6-foot-2, 197). He runs inside and he has the speed to get to the outside."

"He has pretty good moves and good leg power," Presley said. "He can be tackled, but you've got to hit him pretty much in the middle. He'll run through your arms if you try to arm tackle him."

Presley is hoping, however, that Carter's burden will not be as great as it was last year.

"I don't think we'll have to depend on him as much as we did last year," Presley said. "I feel like we've got other people who can play."

"The last three weeks of last season, Roger was so beat up, bruised and banged around ... some days he couldn't even run in practice," Presley said. "We hope we don't have to overuse him this year. But, don't get me wrong, Roger will be tired after the game."

Carter and the return of several other veterans make the Grizzlies the preseason choice in AAAA.

The presence of Greg Blackman and Kirby Lockhart at quarterback means the Grizzlies should be effective through the air. Johnny Aford will be moved from wingback to fullback and Steve Shepherd will probably be the other halfback alongside Carter.

Presley is expecting big things from Art Capehart, a 205-pounder who played fullback last year but has been moved to offensive tackle.

The starters returning on defense include linebackers Earl Logan and Benny Westphal, end Ivan Jordan, tackle Rex Chronister and defensive backs Jackie Baker and Tommy Cheyne.

Presley says North Little Rock is the only team in the league which may be down from last year. Little Rock Hall appears to be the Grizzlies' strongest challenger.

The Warriors were favored to win the title last year, but a loss to North Little Rock cost them the championship.

Hall Coach C. W. Keopple says the situation could be "touch-and-go" early in the season because of inexperience in the line.

The Warriors do have the potential for an excellent attack from the wishbone. The weapons include quarterback Walter Rowan, tailback Craig Robbins, speedy halfback Ken Smith and Tom Ed Hockersmith.

"The wishbone requires a good ball-handling quarterback and three top running backs," Keopple said. "I think we have the quarterback and I'm fairly certain about two of the running backs. If they come through as I expect and we find that other back we should be able to move with it."

Steve Swesey is a highly regarded prospect at guard and defensive tackle Lewis Dilla-huntly should be outstanding.

Pine Bluff, because of an experienced backfield, is considered a contender.

Quarterback Monroe Deshazer, tailback Mike Turchi, fullback Ed Taliaferro and flanker Joe Huddleston are all back.

"Experience in the backfield will be our strongest weapon," says coach Jerome Weson.

"We'll have an inexperienced line with very little size. That will be our weak point. On defense, it is the same thing, a lack of size and too many inexperienced players."

Tackle Bruce Johnson and guard Steve Weaver should give the offensive line some stability.

Little Rock Catholic should be a factor in its first year in AAAA.

The Rockets lost do-everything quarterback Jimmy Doolittle, but coach George Loss says Terry Blaylock has many of Doolittle's qualities and is quicker.

"He just doesn't believe in losing," Loss said. "He has a lot of sureness and he believes in himself. If we can get our offensive line to block people, then I expect Blaylock to do a great job."

Running backs Pat Campbell, Mike Duke and Walter Stephens return from last year's 10-2 season.

Houston to Overhaul Machine

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON, (AP) — The nation's leading total defense and scoring machine over the past team. The pinch is up front. "We're hurting for veteran linemen," Loss said. "We'll have to count on some young boys to fill in. We're going to have to find some way to outsmart and outkick our opponents."

Little Rock Central is a question mark, returning seven offensive and seven defensive starters from a 1-8-1 team.

The backfield is unsettled, although Ralph Bradbury appears to have the inside track at quarterback. The top line prospects include Spencer Burroughs, Phil O'Dell and Kirke Herman.

El Dorado surprised many with an 8-3 record in 1970, but coach Don Horton says he doesn't know what to expect this fall.

"We could be as good as last year's club, or we could be about a .500 team," he said. "I don't think we'll be as explosive as last year, but we may be better in some areas."

Horton has six starters returning on defense including linebacker David Taylor. He's looking at last year's noseman, Bill Foster, as a possible replacement for powerful Anthony at tailback.

North Little Rock captured the AAAA title last year but only five lettermen return from the 10-2 team of 1970.

"We've got our work cut out for us," says Henry Hawk, who replaced Ken Stephens as head coach early this year.

One of the bright spots is David Hustien, a scrambler who figured to be the quarterback last year until he was injured. Bruce Wooldridge was an outstanding receiver as a sophomore last year and Hawk is thinking about moving Wooldridge to tailback.

North Little Rock Northeast won only once last year, but coach Paul Clark is looking for .500 or better this year.

Clark has 14 starters back from last year including seven on defense. The best defender may be defensive tackle Gregory Burl, a 185-pounder.

Jay Fullerton and Chip Hoxie are expected to share the quarterback duties and Hanniver Hardin is a legitimate threat at tailback. Hardin, who has 4.6 speed in the 40, gained more than 900 yards as a sophomore.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR. Printed by Offset five years is being overhauled in hopes of keeping up the pace for the 1971 football season.

"We haven't been this unsettled with our lineup in the past five years," said University of Houston coach Bill Yeoman, the master mechanic of the Cougar's veer-T offense.

Yeoman developed the veer-T in 1966 and that's the same year the Cougars started their phenomenal success drive. For the five-year period, Houston has averaged 466.7 yards and 34.80 points per game.

Yeoman's big problem this season is finding replacements for some parts that didn't wear out—they graduated.

Four offensive starters are gone, led by All-American split end Elmo Wright, the Kansas City Chief's first round choice. Others are center Benny Fry, right tackle Craig Robinson and tight end Earl Thomas.

The Cougars are even more unsettled on defense. Five starters return but they are at new positions, designed to fill costly graduation losses.

Yeoman adds another sour note to his overhaul plans. "We're not what we've been able to do for the past five years and we're not as firm in playing time of the returnees as we've been for the past five years."

Pat Orchin, a 5-foot-8-inch 175-pounder from Baytown, will take up Wright's split end position. "He's a good little competitor with respectable speed and good hands," Yeoman said.

Riley Odums, 6-4, 225, will replace Thomas. Luke Stungis and sophomore Ken Baugh are after Robinson's tackle job and center is up for grabs. The rest of the offensive line includes David Bourquin and Steve Cloud at guards and Charlie Moore at left tackle.

The Cougars return their 1970 backfield intact and the quality is there to produce if the line gives them enough support.

Yeoman says the biggest question mark is whether quarterback Gary Mullins comes all the way back from a knee injury suffered before the 1970 season. "If he comes all the way back" it's got to help our offense," Yeoman said.

The Cougars have one-two punch in running backs Robert Newhouse and Tommy Mozisek. Mozisek led the team in rushing with 935 yards last season and a 6.1 average per carry.

Newhouse started slowly last season while recuperating from an off-season auto accident. But in each of the last five games he rushed over 100 yards. Junior letterman Robert Ford of Belton is the flanker.

Operating on the theory that experience on defense is best, even if it is at a new position, Yeoman moved tackle Mike Bolin and end Bob Kyle to linebackers and Kent Branstetter from end to tackle during spring drills.

The Houston defense will anchor around Frank Ditta, a senior middle linebacker, who set a school record 177 tackles last season, and Ronnie Peacock, who led the team in interceptions with five and made 81 tackles.

The Cougars' 1971 defensive look includes Butch Brezina and Eric Muegge at ends and Steve George and Branstetter at tackles. Bolin, Kyle and Ditta are the linebackers. Peacock and his brother, Randy, are at the corners and Burl Fuller and Nick Holm at safeties.

"Our secondary is an area of concern because we open with Rice and we know they'll test our pass defense," Yeoman said.

The Cougars, newcomers to the Southwest Conference, open with a long-awaited showdown with the Owls Sept. 11.

"I know they've got some outstanding kids over there because I tried to recruit some of them," Yeoman said.

Yeoman also takes into consideration that the Owls are coached by Bill Peterson, who developed one of the top passing offenses in the nation during 11 seasons at Florida State. "It'll be a wild and woolly contest," Yeoman said. "It'll also be the overhauled Cougars' first road test."

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins have signed their No. 1 choice in the amateur draft conducted by the National Hockey League last June.

Ron Jones, 20, an outstanding defenseman with the Edmonton Oil Kings for five years, agreed Monday to a two-year contract. The 6-foot-2, 185-pound prospect will report to the Bruins' training camp next month at London, Ont.

Wolverines Expected to Be Strong

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan has won 25 football games in the past three seasons and there's no reason to believe 1971 will find the Wolverines of Coach Bo Schembechler on any kind of downswing.

For the past three years UM has won eight, eight and nine games while losing a total of only six and in each season the traditional season-ending clash against Ohio State has determined the Big Ten championship.

Schembechler believes Woody Hayes' Buckeyes are obviously the teams to beat once again, but he adds emphatically and cautiously "I think Northwestern, Michigan State, Illinois and some others will be much better than they have been. They're closing that gap and it won't be strictly Michigan and Ohio State any more."

OSU finished sixth nationally in the final Associated Press Poll of the 1970 season, with a 9-0 record, while Michigan ended up with a 9-1 mark.

There are 15 two-year lettermen back out of 23 letterwinners and Schembechler will be relying heavily on those seniors, "to give us the leadership we need."

Quarterback is the biggest question mark as fall practice got under way Monday in preparation for the season opener at conference foe Northwestern Sept. 11—a week earlier than normal because of an expanded schedule from 10 to 11 games.

There are six candidates for quarterback and four are sophomores. The other two are juniors and one of those, Larry Cipa, is still a soph in eligibility. The only lettering quarterback is junior Frank McBride, and he is probably about fifth on the list depth-wise.

Sophs Kevin Casey and Tom Salde will likely battle for the top spot ahead of sophomore Greg Koss, Cipa, McBride and Dave Brandon.

Bo has some of the best backfield depth in the country at the other positions, with Billy Taylor a strong candidate for All-American running at tailback for the third year and fellow senior Glenn Doughty a stand-out wingback.

Fritz Seyferth, a good blocking fullback and power runner, will have to work hard for a starting berth ahead of highly touted soph Ed Shuttlesworth and Bob Thornbladh. Harry Banks and Alan "Cowboy" Walker will back up Taylor and expect to play considerably.

Five of six offensive linemen are letter winners and four of those won monograms twice. Most notable, perhaps, is guard Reggie McKenzie and center Guy Murdock, both candidates for post-season honors.

Jim Brandstatter will have a tough time filling the shoes of departed All-American tackle Dan Dierdorf and will be pressed by soph prospect Curtis Tucker, who has impressed Schembechler.

But Bo, now in his third year at UM after serving at Miami of Ohio, is primarily a defense oriented coach and believes that is where a team's strength lies.

Lettermen man 10 of 11 defensive positions with the top players being safety Tom Darden and middle linebacker Mike Taylor, both seniors.

Left end Butch Carpenter, left tackle Fred Grambau, and middle guard Greg Ellis are coming back off injuries and are keys to the defense, according to the coach.

Among the defensive newcomers to watch for are junior Randy Logan, switched to defensive halfback from wingback, and Taylor's backup Craig Mutch, a converted running back who was All-American in high school two years ago in Michigan.

Black Girl Has Problems as Jockey

By JOHN R. SKINNER
Associated Press Writer
CLEVELAND (AP) — "They can't really say it's experience," mutters young Cheryl White. "It has to be the fact I'm a girl or the fact I'm black."

Two months ago the 17-year-old country girl from Rome, about 50 miles east of Cleveland, was graduated from high school, then broke a barrier of sorts by becoming the nation's first black female jockey.

Since that June 15 inaugural, a last-place finish aboard Ace Reward at Thistledown in Cleveland, it's been rough riding or, more precisely, rough getting rides Cheryl complains. She blames it on racial and sexual prejudice.

"I think with certain people it's a little bit of both—but then I guess it's mostly being a girl, I would say, because two other riders, apprentice jockeys that started after I did, have no trouble getting out."

She might never have gotten a mount had it not been for the fact her father, Robert, is a trainer. The 19 rides she has managed since her debut have been on horses he owns.

He's been a trainer since 1927 and has been at Thistledown for 19 years. Cheryl has been his constant companion at the track for several years.

"I figured since I'd been here for years that a lot of trainers would give me a shot because I've been around and I know them," said the poised teenager. "But I found out the hard way."

She has posted two seconds and two thirds in her brief appearances, all but one of the thirds accomplished in four starts at Waterford Park in West Virginia.

Patty West was the leading rider at Waterford before she went to Pocono Downs in Pennsylvania, Cheryl notes. "She almost rides at least five a night," she said. "It's just the difference in people, I guess. You have to have the chance. You have to have the horses under you. And that's what I haven't had."

Browns Hopes Rest on a Set of Knees

By JOHN R. SKINNER
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND (AP) — The title hopes of the Cleveland Browns in the American Conference's Central Division this season may very well rest with a pair of knees that even Frankenstein wouldn't want. The knees, minus cartilage, belong to veteran quarterback

Bumpers to Seek Hike for Teachers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Tuesday he probably would appeal to the Cost of Living Council to exempt Arkansas teacher salaries from President Nixon's wage-price freeze.
Bumpers told a news conference he would go before the council in Washington if Atty. Gen. Ray H. Thornton Jr. concludes from a study that the salaries are exempt under Arkansas law.
The appeal probably will be made even if Thornton decides the salaries are not exempt, but a favorable attorney general's opinion would add to the state's "ammunition" in pleading the case, Bumpers said.
Bumpers said he would not defy the freeze, but he raised

Bill Nelsen, who new Coach Nick Skorich would like to keep on the bench in a backup role all season.
Inexperienced Mike Phipps, the club's top draft choice in 1969, is being groomed for the job, but he has not been able to consistently move the offense.
If Phipps doesn't improve satisfactorily before the regular season begins, Nelsen will get the call despite the fact Skorich doesn't think Nelsen can survive the season without another injury that would probably end his career.
"We know we can win with Bill Nelsen," Skorich said. Conditioning, he said, has brought Nelsen's knees "back to where they were before they were hurt in the second game last year," and adds, "He's throwing the ball better." Nelsen threw for 16 touchdowns and 2,156 yards in 1970 despite the injury.
The Browns running game was sub-par last season when the team finished 7-7, second worst in team history. Part of the problem was due to injuries to Leroy Kelly and Bo Scott and part of it due to the line blocking.
"They (the line) had a lot of unfair criticism," Skorich said. He blamed the blocking problems on "different types of defensive spacings we were facing" in the AFC. He said the line has now adjusted and "we have also made offensive changes to meet that type of defense."
"Defensive spacings have eliminated the sweep," Skorich said of the Browns' big gainer play of previous years. He said he would counter with quarterback audibles for the sweep at the line of scrimmage this season because "You have to be prepared to take it (the sweep) when you can get it."
With rookie Bo Cornell and veterans Steve Engel and Reece Morrison fighting for backup running roles and with strong receivers in tight ends Milt Morin and Chip Glass and wide receivers including Gary Collins, Fair Hooker and rookie Paul Staroba, the rest of the offensive line looks strong.
Skorich feels he has a strong middle offensive line with center Fred Hoaglin and guards Gene Hickerson and John De-Marie, backed by Jim Copeland. Veteran Dick Schafrath holds down one tackle post but an adequate right tackle is being sought among Bob McKay, Al Jenkins and Mitch Johnson. A trade is a possibility.

The defensive line of tackles Jerry Sherk and Walter Johnson and ends Joe Jones and Jack Gregory may be the club's strongest suit, and Skorich feels that the linebacking led by veterans Jim Houston, Dale Lindsey and Billy Andrews, will be improved and adequate. Rookie Charlie Hall may be a starting linebacker before the season ends, Skorich said.
Rookie cornerback Clarence Scott, the club's 1971 top draft pick, and veteran Ben Davis are expected to give the Browns new speed and strength at the corners and veterans Ernie Kellermann, Walt Sumner and Mike Howell supply depth at safeties.
Rookies Guy Homoly and Stan Brown are expected to provide much-needed improvement in punt and kickoff returns.
Don Cockroft has made only 24 of 45 field goal tries the past two years and Skorich said he expects near perfect accuracy within the 30-yard line this year and 75 per cent conversion success overall or he'll be looking for a new kicker in 1972.

the possibility of the state going to court to obtain relief if none can be found elsewhere.
Many school contracts are signed on a 12-month basis, but the operable date of the contracts varies. Some have a date of July 1, others do not become operable until Sept. 1, even though signed earlier.
Bumpers said such a situation had an inequitable result, since contracts operable on July 1 would not be covered by the freeze, but contracts operable on or after Aug. 14 — when the freeze was imposed — would be covered for the 90-day period of the freeze.
The governor said about 60 per cent of the teachers might not receive scheduled salary increases because of the freeze while others would be eligible for the raises provided in this year's session of the General Assembly.
Eugene R. Warren, attorney for the Arkansas Education Association, told another news conference that he believed school boards should "go ahead and honor their contracts."
"If local school boards decide to go ahead and honor the contracts they have entered into with their teachers in spite of the freeze order, the burden of action would rest on the federal government," Warren said.
The freeze order could "postpone payment, but it cannot extinguish obligations," Warren said.
The law also provides that a teacher's contract ends if specifically terminated by the school board.

Officials in Chicago Deny Wrongdoing

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — "I've done absolutely nothing wrong," State's Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan says of a special grand jury indictment charging him with conspiracy to prevent prosecution of eight policemen who killed two Black Panther party leaders in a weapons raid.
Hanrahan, hand-picked by Mayor Richard J. Daley to run for the politically powerful the raises retroactively when the freeze has expired.

The AEA attorney said he did not advocate defiance of the President's order. It just does not apply to most teachers, Warren said, because Arkansas has a continuing contract law.
That law, he said, provides that teacher contracts are renewed at the end of a school term in late May or early June unless the teacher signs a new contract — with another district, for example — within 10 days of the end of the last school term.
The law also provides that a teacher's contract ends if specifically terminated by the school board.

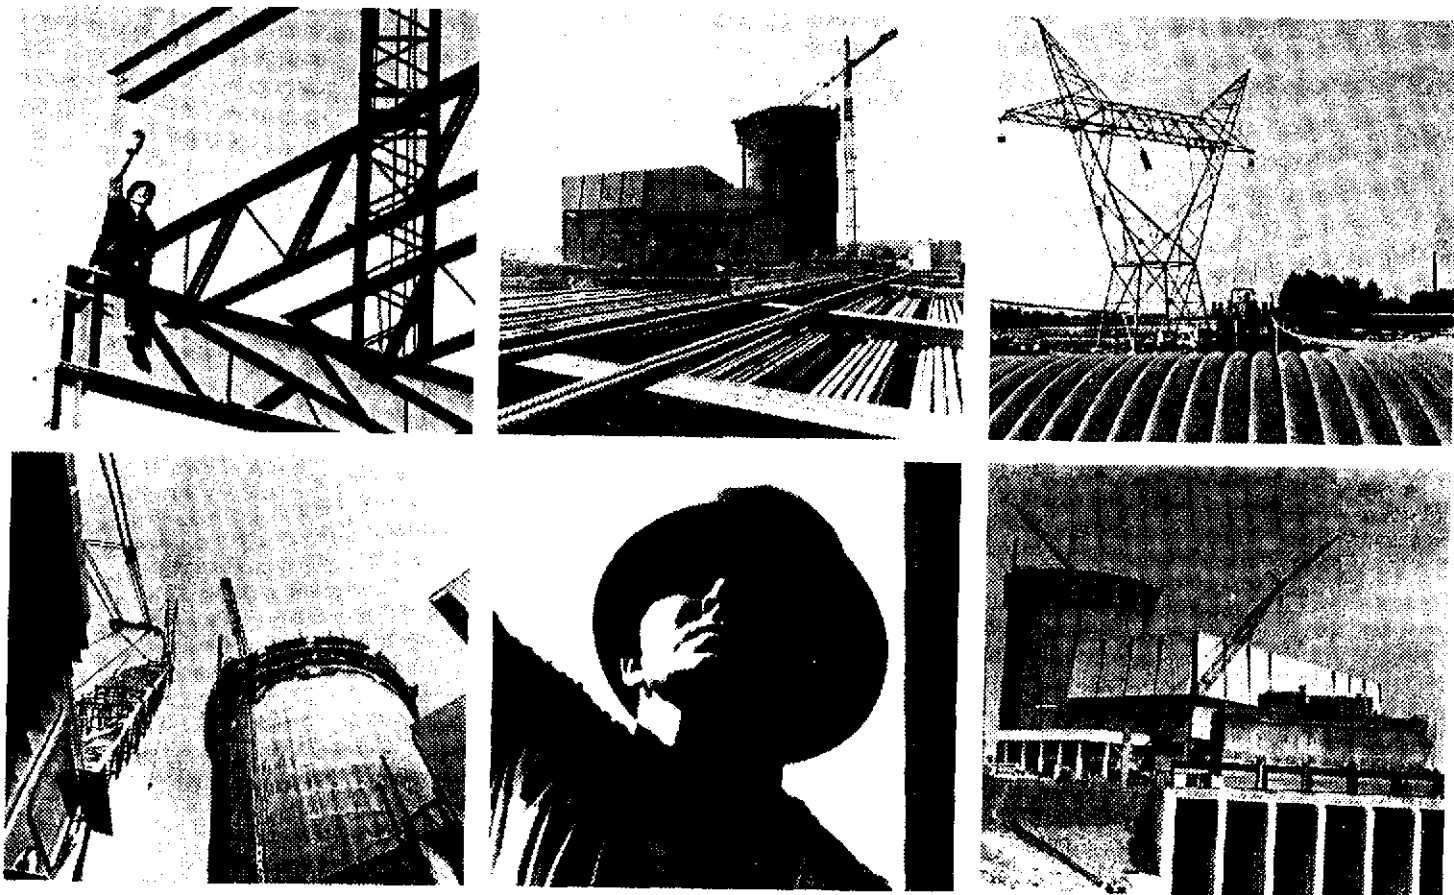

state's attorney office in 1968, was named in a long-suppressed indictment made public Tuesday along with 13 other police officials. The indictment was returned by a special Cook County (Chicago) grand jury.
Daley echoed Hanrahan's statements.
"Where's the evidence? Where's the obstruction of justice? No one with any sense would answer a question like that today," the mayor said.
The Dec. 4, 1969, raid in which Fred Hampton and Mark Clark were killed was embroiled in controversy from the outset.
Raiding officers said they drew gunfire when they attempted to serve a search warrant at Hampton's West Side apartment during the predawn hours that day.
They said more than 200 rounds were fired at them from the apartment and that in returning the shots Hampton, 21, and Clark, 22, were killed. They said they found 19 weapons in the apartment.
Black Panthers contended the biracial raiding party opened fire without provocation and that Hampton was killed as he slept.
A federal grand jury which investigated the case in the spring of 1970 said police had fired at least 90 shots into the apartment, but that evidence presented to it indicated only one shot could have been fired from the apartment. No indictments were returned, however.

Witness Says Medina Was at Scene

By KATHRYN JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
FT. MC PHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Louis Bernard Martin, the first prosecution witness to place Capt. Ernest L. Medina's command group at the scene of mass killings at My Lai, takes the witness stand again today.

The 24-year-old, former artillery radio operator from San Jose, Calif., testified Tuesday that he and six or seven others in Medina's command group were moving through the village when they saw U.S. troops shoot eight to 12 civilians.

"They were mostly women and children," said Martin, now a policeman.

Asked by the prosecution if Medina was with the command group at the time of the shootings, Martin said: "All I can recall is that we were in the command group and we were in motion."

Medina, 34, of Montrose, Colo., is charged with the premeditated murder of 102 Vietnamese civilians during an infantry assault on My Lai on March 16, 1968.

He is accused of shooting a Vietnamese woman, shooting or directing the shooting of a young boy and of failing to intervene after learning his troops began killing civilians when they found no enemy soldiers in the village.

The captain testified at the court-martial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. that he witnessed no mass killings by his men and entered the village after the assault ended. Calley, one of Medina's platoon leaders, was convicted of killing 22 civilians at My Lai.

Martin, the 26th prosecution witness in the trial, said the command group followed Medina to a point just south of My Lai where they examined a body and then moved on into the village.

Shortly afterward, they encountered a group of civilians in front of their homes.

Q. What were the people doing?

A. They were being pushed into groups.

Q. By whom?

A. Ground troops. They were pushed into a group and shot by soldiers.

Asked how far ahead of him Medina was, Martin replied, "I don't recall."

Martin, who said he was next to the last person in the line, said under cross-examination that Medina could have been as far as 90 feet away.

Martin also testified that in a radio report to his superiors, Medina had reported a body

Court Told Troops Not Questioned

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) —

Witnesses at the court-martial of Col. Oran K. Henderson have testified that in the aftermath of My Lai, while the memory of the body-strewn village still was fresh, no officer questioned the troops.

"I was troubled in my feelings," said Ronald L. Haeberle, an Army photographer who accompanied Charlie Company on the March 16, 1968 raid. He said he was particularly upset about the shooting of children but did not make any report and kept color pictures he had taken of the grisly scenes to himself.

"There was fear on my part and Jay Roberts' about turning over what we had or telling someone about it," Haeberle testified Tuesday at Henderson's trial on charges he attempted to cover up the incident. Roberts was an Army reporter who accompanied Haeberle on the assault.

"We were fearful about what would happen the next time the 31st Public Information Detachment went into the field. The men would be fearful for their lives, about what could happen to them and their cameras," Haeberle said.

Henderson, 51 today, was commanding officer of the 11th Brigade at the time of the infantry sweep through My Lai. He is charged with failing to investigate reports of a massacre, failing to report it to higher headquarters and lying twice to an Army investigative board.

Haeberle has disclosed previously that he earned about $35,000 from the sale of the color pictures after events at My Lai became public knowledge. He said it was common knowledge in his unit that he carried his own camera in addition to the Army's black and white cameras. He said he was not asked for the color film.

"Did anyone ask you about the photos or their contents prior to leaving Vietnam," asked the prosecutor, Maj. Carroll J. Tichenor.

"No."

"Would you have released the color film if you had been asked by Col. Henderson?"

"I would have released the film if I were asked."

Later, under cross examination, Haeberle admitted "in my mind I would turn them over ... but who's to say at that time."

Another of Tuesday's five witnesses—Sgt. Lones R. Warren, now an instructor in a correctional training company at Ft. Riley, Kan.—was asked if he heard helicopter crewmen complain about indiscriminate killing of civilians.

He said he had not.

Q. While at LZ Dottie (the staging area), did you hear reports of criminal activity involving Charlie Company?

A. No sir.

Q. Did you hear about an investigation?

A. No sir.

Q. Did you hear any rumors about anything unusual?

A. I did overhear just a general statement they were raising hell about My Lai.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon envisages his new economic strategy paying for itself, saving about $500 million more than it costs. But administration sources say that still would leave a fiscal 1972 deficit of about $20 billion.

They say if Congress wants a more expansionary policy, the red ink could match the towering 1971 deficit of $23.2 billion.

Influential lawmakers already are talking about bigger tax benefits for consumers and objecting to the President's proposed 5-per-cent federal payroll cut, largely through attrition. Some have proposed also postponing the next Social Security tax increase scheduled Jan. 1 under a House-passed bill.

The proposed actions could bring about a fiscal 1972 deficit nearly double the $11.5 billion Nixon estimated in February when he sent his budget message to Congress.

Charges Rural Loans Going to City Folks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional auditors charge many government loans designed to provide rural residents with outdoor recreation facilities are benefitting primarily city dwellers.

For example, the General Accounting Office told Congress Tuesday, a $275,000 Farmers Home Administration loan to develop a golf course, clubhouse, swimming pool and tennis court in a completely rural county of 38,000 serves just 1 per cent of the residents.

Another case, GAO said, involves a $245,000 loan for a similar project in a rural county of 10,500 although the project serves just 4 per cent of the population.

The GAO report agreed with findings of an Agriculture Department inspector-general's study last year.

The auditors said loans went to projects which "served only a small percentage of the residents of rural areas; served primarily urban, rather than rural, residents; had membership restrictions which limited the use of recreational facilities to organization members only, and had fees that were beyond the ability of many rural residents to pay."

Out of 682 organizations loaned a total of 190 million, the GAO said, 59 limited the number of persons that could join, 48 precluded use of facilities by nonmembers and 473 required fees or annual dues from $51 to more than $200 "that were beyond the ability of many rural residents to pay."

The report did not identify projects cited as examples.

Based on the inspector-general's findings, GAO said, FHA has taken steps to correct various problems pointed out by the audits. GAO recommended Congress consider the auditors' findings in determining whether to continue the recreational loan programs.

GAO said that from the start of a series of three recreation loan programs dating back to 1962, about $98 million has been distributed, with $3.1 million having been repaid and 27 per cent of the 730 borrowers delinquent by $2.8 million.

Of $79.1 million loaned for golf projects, Gao said, a review of 14 of them located in rural areas with a total 247,000 population showed only 3.8 per cent of the residents were members of organizations receiving the loans.

In the administration of the program, GAO said the agency needs to strengthen its practices to determine eligibility.

Waller Is Winner in Mississippi

By JAMES SAGGUS
Associated Press Writer

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — William Waller has scored a smashing victory over Lt. Gov. Charles Sullivan in Mississippi's Democratic runoff for governor, an upset which thrusts the Jackson attorney into a general election campaign against black leader Charles Evers.

Although both Waller and Sullivan adopted moderate stances on racial matters, Waller apparently landed the votes that went to two segregationist candidates who lost in the primary Aug. 3.

With 2,501 of the 2,505 voting units reports from Tuesday's election, Waller had 388,399 votes to 327,461 for Sullivan.

Waller, who led in only 19 of the 82 counties three weeks earlier, swept 62 counties in the runoff. Sullivan, who took 57 counties in the first primary, kept only 20, 11 of them in the Delta area around his home town of Clarksdale.

"This time we made a change," the 44-year-old Waller told campaign headquarters crowds Tuesday night.

It was a reference to his campaign theme, "Let's make a change," an effort to link Sullivan, 47, with what Waller called "the political machine" that had elected past governors.

As Democratic nominee, Waller will face Evers, an independent, in the Nov. 2 general election. Waller, a former district attorney in Jackson, twice prosecuted a white man on charges of murdering Evers' brother Medgar in 1963.

Both of the trials of Byron de la Beckwith ended in hung juries, but Waller drew praise from civil rights groups for his efforts to win a conviction.

Mills Thinks China Might Cancel Visit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said Monday that Red China may withdraw the invitation for President Nixon to visit that nation if Nixon finds it impossible to meet any conditions that may have been set on the trip.

"I don't know whether or not there are certain conditions that have been laid down for his acceptance as a visitor in Red China," Mills said. "If there have been certain conditions imposed for him to make the trip, it may be impossible to carry out those conditions. And, if that's the case, then I feel certain the invitation will be withdrawn."

The congressman said he had "very mixed emotions" about the trip "if he makes it."

"I'm not certain that he will," Mills said.

"There's a lot to be lost, I think," Mills said. "There's a lot to be gained, of course."

Mills said he had not talked with Nixon about the trip.

"I do not know what he has in his mind in making the trip — what he'll talk about, what objectives he hopes to gain," he said.

Barred Doctor Worked at State Hospital

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — The administrator of a unit of the State Hospital confirmed Tuesday night that the hospital had employed a man stripped of an Indiana medical license, but said the position was being terminated because of publicity.

"We had hoped to salvage a physician," said Dr. Walter S. Mizell, administrator of the Benton unit of the state's psychiatric institution, referring to the employment of Robert E. Hales.

The Indianapolis Star reported earlier that Hales had been employed at the hospital although he walked away on July 4 from an Indiana institution to which he had been committed.

The Star said Hales had been committed to the Indiana hospital under a criminal sexual psychopath law after facing a sodomy charge.

Hales' medical license was revoked in 1967 after five female patients complained that he "engaged in improprieties" while giving them pelvic examinations, the Star reported.

Mizell said he hired Hales on July 26.

"He laid it all out for me," Mizell said. "We felt that the past was in the past and belonged there. We needed physicians and we hoped to salvage him."

"Now, because of this publicity, we have decided this day to terminate the position effective and end of this month," Mizell said. "This boy has so many strikes against him, we feel he should go back to Indiana and try to salvage his status there. I don't know if he feels the same about going back."

Mizell said publicity had caused Hales similar problems in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

Hales, 37, could not be reached for comment.

Mizell said Hales had been employed as a temporary psychiatric resident, but termination of the position means the hospital will not move Hales into a permanent residency.

For our final hand from "Tiger Bridge" we go to a tough team of four game, South wasn't proud of his four spade bid, but he was not going to let East shut him out. Anyway, South wasn't vulnerable.

After West doubled and East ran to five hearts, South passed in the hope that his partner would be able to take three tricks against West. Then South suddenly found himself playing five spades doubled.

South looked over dummy unhappily. His first thought was, "I should have doubled five hearts to keep my partner from bidding on." Then he thought a little more and decided that maybe everyone, or almost everyone, knew what he was doing. That East had bid five hearts because he thought his partner would make it and that East's analysis had been correct. In that case East would be void of spades.

Acting on that premise South came to his hand by ruffing a club, led a small spade and called for dummy's 10. Then he drew the rest of the trumps, ruffed another club and led a diamond toward dummy's king.

He had come to the conclusion that West had a sin-

It turned out to be the 10 and after this start it was a simple matter to finesse against East's jack and make his doubled contract.

Scaly Skin Spots Should Be Treated

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Would you please write about senile keratosis. What causes them? If they are not treated will they become malignant? What treatment is recommended?

Dear Reader—These are scaly round or oval spots that develop on the surface of the skin. They occur most often on the face, back of the hands and on the scalp. They can also occur on the trunk of the body. They can have a brown, gray or yellowish scaly appearance. The scab covers an area of skin where the oily skin glands have been particularly troublesome. Apparently the skin of some people is inherently more susceptible to these than in others.

The characteristic of the skin is probably more important than age since they can occur even in younger years. Some skin specialists now simply call them keratosis, omitting the term senile (possibly because some skin specialists also had them and didn't care for the designation of senile). They are more frequent in middle age and beyond.

Very often the scab appears where the skin has been injured, such as from a razor nick. Exposure of the skin to sun and wind contributes to the development of keratosis. That is why they are most frequently noted on the hands and face.

Yes, if not treated they can become malignant. They will not go away without treatment, but they are easily removed. There are a number of salves that remove the spots by a "chemical burn." I think all of these should be seen by a doctor and removed. If it is already malignant then it must be treated like a skin cancer and may require surgical excision.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I read your article which said that acne scars can be removed. I went to a plastic surgeon and he told me he could not help me because I have dark skin and if he sanded my face it would leave marks on my face. Can you help me? I just don't feel right this way.

Dear Reader — I have answered your letter because it points up an important problem in removing scars from acne. The process works best in very light-skinned people. The removal of a layer of skin gives it a lighter pink color which makes it very noticeable in individuals with any appreciable amount of pigment in their skin. A good plastic surgeon can tell you on an individual basis if you can get improvement or not. I suspect the doctor you have seen knew what he was talking about and gave you good advice.

Speaker Albert Will Attend

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The headquarters for the appreciation rally for Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said Monday that the rally Thursday would be attended by House Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma.

The headquarters also said Alexander L. Stott of New York, a vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., would attend.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Comeuppance for Creditors

Mrs. Olson was home alone when two husky men came to her door.

"We're from the appliance store," they announced, "and we are going to repossess your stove."

Despite her protests, they barged into the house, seized the stove, and carried it away—leaving soot stains all over the rug.

Understandably upset, Mrs. Olson determined to sue the store for damages. In court, the proprietor told the judge:

"Maybe my boys did get a little careless. I am willing to pay for cleaning her rug. But aside from that, she suffered no harm. After all, she was behind in her payments."

However, the judge held him liable not only for the rug but also for "punitive damages"—that is, extra damages imposed to teach him a lesson.

The law is taking an increasingly stern view of "tough stuff" by creditors in the repossession of merchandise. To discourage such tactics, most courts will award punitive damages to the debtor, over and above any actual harm done.

This is especially true when the repossessor resorts to personal violence. Thus, a court awarded punitive damages to a housewife after her sewing machine was repossessed at the point of a pistol.

In another case, a furniture dealer told a widow she could have extra time to pay for her purchases because she had to have an operation. But while she was in the hospital, he broke into her house and decamped with the furniture. Here, too, a court found ample grounds for awarding punitive damages.

Nevertheless, the law does not hound on the basis of repossessing. By giving the creditor a simple and speedy remedy against the delinquent debtor, it can keep down the cost of credit for the consumers.

Repeatedly, courts have found nothing improper when a repossessor towed away a car parked in front of a debtor's house, or even in his driveway. As one court pointed out, the seller is merely taking back — "without force, threats, or even stealth" — what is rightfully his.

Moody Heads Field in Concord Open

JAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. — Mrs. Grville Moody, 1969 U.S. Open champion, heads the field opening play here Thursday in the $60,000 Concord Open Golf Tournament.

The tournament is a satellite event, with most of the game's ranking players competing in the Match Play Tournament at Pinehurst, N.C.

Moody, whose fortunes have faded a bit since he came out of 14 years' military service to take the Open at the Houston Champions Club three years ago, chose to shed for the $12,000 first prize here.

Yearly average of West Indian Atlantic hurricanes is from eight to 10. The largest number in any one year was 21 in 1933.
